Before you read anything about the image,
use your powers of observation
to look slowly and closely.

What do you notice?
Imagine using all
of your senses.

What do you recognize?

What feeling do you
get from the image?
Is there a mood?

What does this image
remind you of?

What is going on?

What other meanings
could there be?

What does the image
make you wonder about?

What more do you want to know?
